

Refund Policy

Our Sellers Tickets are NON-REFUNDABLE. If you're not able to make our event for any reason, pass the ticket onto a friend with an over-flowing wardrobe (we've all been there!). We'll just need to know their name and details at least 2 days before the event!

If you don't show up on the day, we will not offer a refund or transfer.

Our doors open times are strict and if you are not set up by then, unfortunately you will be considered a no-show.

If the event needs to be rescheduled for any reason, you will be offered a voucher for a space at another future market of your choice (pending availability).

We cannot guarantee how much money you make on the day - that's up to you! Keep an eye out for our handy-hints document with our selling tips.

Your ticket price is the entry fee to participate as a stall-holder on the day and this will not be refunded if you do not make your desired amount of money on the day.
